

End of year uniform donation

Project Gambia are asking for donations of old Hob Green uniform for the children living in the village of Kutosilo and in the central river region of Gambia, West Africa. These families live in shacks on the edge of a rubbish dump, with no clean water and very little in terms of amenities or hygiene. These children have very little clothing and we have been supporting them for the last few years by sending over outgrown uniform for them to use. They survive purely on donations.

I flew out to Gambia in February last year and took some photos of Kutosilo and the children living there, who are very grateful for our support. It was so lovely to see those children wearing our uniform, knowing that we had made a positive difference to their lives. It was really quite moving and I am hopeful that we can send out plenty more items this year, especially after the year everyone has just had.

Please send any unwanted/outgrown school uniform into school on or before the last day of term. We are also accepting any outgrown baby items for the younger children.

Thank you ever so much for your ongoing support, and if you have any questions, please do contact me.

Miss Bingley (on behalf of Project Gambia).
